Dear Sir

Acknowledgement of the Impact of CApIC-ACE on the International Office and Linkages

I am writing to express my profound appreciation for the remarkable contributions of the Covenant Applied Informatics and Communication - Africa Centre of Excellence (CApIC-ACE) to the internationalization efforts at Covenant University. Since the inception of this World Bank-funded project, CApIC-ACE has made significant strides in enhancing the global profile of Covenant University.

One of the most notable impacts has been the substantial increase in the number of international students at Covenant University. In the 2023/2024 academic session alone, for instance, the students from the Center accounted for 30% of our international student population, a testament to the high quality of training, funding and academic excellence provided by the Center. This influx of international students has greatly enriched the cultural diversity on our campus, fostering a more inclusive and global learning environment.

The Center has also attracted visiting faculty members and researchers to further support our academic community. The international faculty and scholars brought in by CApIC-ACE not only contribute to the advancement of knowledge within their respective fields but also play a crucial role in mentoring our students and collaborating with our faculty members, thereby raising the standard of education and research at Covenant University.

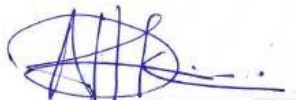

The consistent adherence to international best practices by CApIC-ACE has set a benchmark for academic excellence, further positioning Covenant University as a leading institution in Africa. The work done by your team has contributed to Covenant University's mission of being a world-class university.

The International Office and Linkages has benefited from the activities of CApIC-ACE, particularly in terms of building and strengthening international collaborations. The Center has served as a reference point in establishing partnerships with other institutions and research centers around the world.

As Covenant University works towards greater internationalisation, the contributions of CApIC-ACE will remain invaluable. I pray for the continued success of the Center.

Thank you for the excellent work being done by CApIC-ACE resulting in positive impact on our internationalisation efforts.

Kind regards,

Dr. Isaac I. Akinwumi
